Third Sunday of Easter

From the Pastor's Desk

The tender dialogue between Jesus and Peter is a favorite of mine. It is the exchange two dear friends can have after one has deeply hurt the other and wonders if things can be the same. Maybe you've had a similar experience? Jesus begins: "Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these?" Peter answers, "Yes, Lord, you know that I love you." Jesus asks Peter to care for his lambs. When asked a third time Peter is upset. In the original language the word for love is changed. Jesus asks for the total sacrificial love of close friends. Peter's answer reflects the love between siblings. Jesus meets Peter there, trusting that the sacrificial love originally asked for will return. Jesus' description of Peter's actions when he is older makes this clear.

In the first reading we see Peter's willingness to sacrifice. Newly out of prison, Peter proclaims Jesus, even when that could mean return to prison and death. In late 2014, ISIS beheaded four children because they would not convert to Islam. Those children said, "We love Yeshua (Jesus). We have always loved Yeshua." They witnessed to sacrificial love as modern Holy Innocents.

We might not be asked to give ourselves in physical death. I'm not sure I'd have the strength to do so. But we are asked to love Jesus totally, to feed others with forgiveness, pay attention to others' needs and "smell like the sheep." as Pope Francis often asks. We are asked to live unconditional love of God by how we try to love others. The measure of our love is to love without measure, like Jesus, Peter, and the other disciples. Love and give blessing and honor to the Risen Lamb of God forever. Amen.

Loving God, you gave yourself to us totally by becoming human. Jesus gave himself totally to us and to you by his death on the cross. You raised him from death. Raise us up and help us to love you totally by the ways in which we love our sisters and brothers.

- How do you love Jesus? As a brother, or with the sacrificial love of spouses or best friends?
- Name the ways you feed Jesus' lambs and sheep with the daily-ness of life.

Shalom! Fr. Pat

Mass Offerings Praying for family and friends (deceased or living) is an act of faith, hope and charity. One way you can honor your loved ones is to have a Mass offered for them on a birthday or anniversary. The customary donation (Mass stipend) is $15 for the celebrant, but don't let your financial status prevent you from requesting a Mass. To schedule a Mass offering, please call the Rectory at 652-3153 or stop in during office hours.

"Feed my sheep."

BREAD OF LIFE OUTREACH CENTER is collecting personal hygiene products for the month of April. BOLO currently serves 70+ families through the food pantry, and your generous support is always very much appreciated!
