Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Christians are followers of Christ. That seems obvious, I'm sure! "Christ" is a title given to Jesus by those who have encountered him as the Chosen, or Anointed, One of God. The Hebrew equivalent of the Greek "Christ" is the title "Messiah". As Jesus lived his earthly life, we assume he was probably more commonly referred to as Jesus of Nazareth. The Hebrew people around Jesus lived in anticipation of the Messiah who would lead them to greatness.

As Jesus became recognized as uniquely expressive of God, especially following the Resurrection, Jesus was proclaimed the Messiah, the long awaited one! As the faith spread into Greek areas, the title Christ became more commonly used.

All this is to say that we, modern Christians, are wise to remember that we have inherited a faith that calls us to follow a person named Jesus, who at one point in history united the mystery of the Godhead with our humanity. This is the mystery of the Incarnation!

Recently during a Bible School session with 5 year olds entitled "Jesus is My Friend", I asked the kids, "What is a friend?" One answered that a friend is someone we know. I agreed and went on to say that my hope is that during our Bible School we all might get to know Jesus a bit better each day so that we can know more and more that Jesus really is our friend.

Perhaps this Bible School advice isn't simply for the little ones. As Christians, followers of Christ, our growth in knowledge of the life and words of Jesus will never end. Cultivating our faith in Jesus is a good way to gain perspective on our lives and our place in God's creation.

For many years, these panels were part of Frank Lloyd Wright's Graycliff Estate when the Piarist Fathers from Hungary used Graycliff as their motherhouse. Fr. Pat Keleher, St. Vincent de Paul Spiritual Advisor, quotes St. Vincent in the recent edition of Vincentian Visions:

"Even though the poor are often rough and unrefined, we must not judge them from external appearances nor from the mental gifts they seemed to have received. On the contrary, if you consider the poor in the light of faith, then you will observe that they are taking the place of the Son of God who chose to be poor".
 God Bless all.

THANK YOU FROM CATHOLIC CHARITIES! You have made generous sacrifices on behalf of the Catholic Charities Appeal for 2016. Because of your efforts, the poor will be fed and clothed and given medicine.
